Available opportunities

Student Leaders Colloquium

The Student Leaders Colloquium is an exclusive 3-day, expenses-paid, intensive enrichment program held at the Fraser Institute's head office in Vancouver, BC. Fraser Institute policy staff and Senior Fellows will join students in sessions covering a wide array of complex public policy issues. Free, open, and thoughtful discussions are encouraged. Graduates of the program have gone on to hold executive-level roles in leading think tanks, business, and government.

If you or someone you know is looking to develop leadership skills, become more immersed in economics and policy, and broaden their network, this three-day immersive course is a great place to start. Apply by April 23, 2023, to be considered for this exclusive opportunity.

Please note: This opportunity is available for students studying in Canada from any academic discipline. Students are selected based on their ability to contribute to the discussion and their potential to be future leaders. In addition to those who are actively involved in campus, local, provincial, and federal politics, we choose students pursuing careers in economics, public policy, international relations, journalism, law, entrepreneurship, commerce, and medicine, just to name a few.

Upcoming Student Leaders Colloquium:

June 15-18, 2023

The Fraser Institute

Vancouver, B.C.

Application Deadline: April 23, 2023 at 11:59PM

For Inquiries:

Please contact Mitch Charlton at mitch.charlton@fraserinstitute.org for inquiries specifically related to the Student Leaders Colloquium or for general program inquiries, contact student@fraserinstitute.org.

International Ambassadors wanted

Undergraduate Admission and Recruitment (UAR) is looking to recruit students to the new International Student Ambassadors program. International Student Ambassadors will assist at a variety of events; their role will be to give a fair and accurate representation of the University from a student perspective. This insight is valued by prospective students, as well as their parents and other supporters. You will also be given the opportunity to contribute your lived experience, cultural knowledge and expertise and gain professional experience. Given that our primary audience is international students (and their supporters) currently in high school, the majority of this program will be delivered online/virtually. The role is a flexible, paid, part-time position, where you will be an ambassador for the University and a role model for prospective students.

For duties and responsibilities and more information, login to MyCareers.

Your hours will be flexible in nature and will be allocated on a mutually acceptable basis. Events can take place on weekdays, evenings, and weekends.

Award Information

Baillie Award Nominations

Student Affairs is currently accepting nominations for the annual Baillie Award for Excellence in Secondary School Teaching.

Nominations are open until April 11.

These awards give undergraduate students in their graduating year from Queen's University the opportunity to honour educators in Canada who, during the student's high school career, had a decisive and formative influence on the student, and set them on the course to post-secondary education and ultimately to their graduation from Queen's.

These awards recognize an exceptional high school educator who has served as a role model and mentor to their students, instilled a love of learning, and inspired academic excellence and the pursuit of higher education.

Up to five awards will be given annually. Educator-recipients will each receive $10,000 and are recognized at convocation.

The Global Undergraduate Awards

UA is pleased to announce that The Global Undergraduate Awards 2023 Programme is now accepting submissions to the Economics category until June 7, 2023.

What is The Global Undergraduate Awards?

The Global Undergraduate Awards (UA) is the world's leading academic awards programme which recognises top undergraduate coursework, shares this work with a global audience, and connects students across cultures and disciplines. Students submit their work for free online and it is judged by a panel of international judges, consisting of leading academic experts and industry leaders.

How do I apply?

Submitting is free, quick, and simple! Just follow these steps to #AwardYourWork. Don't forget to check if your paper meets our submission criteria before submitting, otherwise your work may be disqualified!

Not ready to submit yet?

No worries, you can still register to reserve your place in the competition.

If you have any queries relating to The Global Undergraduate Awards 2023 Programme, please contact us at info@undergraduateawards.com.
